• What I have done

1. Read the related paper and writing the literature review part of the project proposal.
2. Communicated with team members and split the proposal work into more detailed part to contributed to.

Due to the time constrains, we did not hold a group meeting for this week. However, since we've already assigned tasks for each group member, we followed research process and do our part on Google Drive documents and work help out each other whenever we encounter a problem.

• What I plan to do

1. Contact with group members and discuss about the proposal presentation context.
2. Find similar Github open source repository to learn or imitate their detection system skills.
3. Compare multiple existing detection systems based on client's requirements.
4. Find helpful resource about knowledge transferring.

• The issues I've countered

1. Did not effectively find relevant, useful resources online.
2. Time management failure

Detail: I have not spend sufficient time on the resource searching due to overlapped deadlines this week.
